

Din I-Art Helwa

A Holiday with a difference: The Delimara Lighthouse, Delimara Point, Malta for a unique get-away experience.

A British Lighthouse built on the southernmost tip of Malta in 1856 this historic property enjoys marvelous views of Marsascula Port and is close to the fishing villages of Birzebbugia and Marsaxlokk. It is also a few minutes' walk from rocky beaches and the crystal clear waters of Peter's Pool. The lighthouse has been restored and is held in trust by Din I-Art Helwa, National Trust of Malta. All proceeds from its use are dedicated entirely to the restoration and environmental funds of the not for profit organisation.

The lighthouse consists of two lighthouse-keeper's apartments converted into a holiday let accommodation. The simplicity of the keeper's apartments has been retained, with special touches, such as the hanging mosquito nets over each bed, the original stone elements in the kitchen, as well as the colourful limewash colour scheme originally used. The views from each and every room, including the toilets and bathrooms are spectacular, and one feels in touch with nature looking at the sea and wonderful landscape surrounding it. The proximity of Peter's Pool, and other "out of the way" swimming places, is an added bonus to holiday makers, as are the lovely walking trails, and Xrobb L-Ghagin nature park. It is a place to go and relax, leaving everything behind, and yet being close enough to the vibrant restaurants and atmosphere of Marsaxlokk.

